

Functional Statement
Senior Psychologist Program Manager and Senior Supervisory Psychologist (GS-15-6)

General Description

Scope and complexity of position. The Senior Psychologist Program Manager and Senior Supervisory Psychologist at XXXX holds the following positions: (1) Director, PTSD Patient Care Line, (2) Director, Psychology Service, (3) Director, Advanced Psychology Postdoctoral Fellowship Program funded by the XXXX, and (4) Professor (academic faculty) in the University of XXXX, School of Medicine. This psychologist has very broad administrative responsibilities for multiple clinical programs, as well as for a large professional psychology service, that delivers specialized services significantly impacting the health care of veterans. Program components falling under this psychologist's purview are of considerable scope, complexity, and size. The Senior Psychologist Program Manager and Senior Supervisory Psychologist is required to exercise a high level of organizational skill, independent judgment, problem-solving ability, content expertise in PTSD and the profession of psychology, and ability to communicate effectively with high-ranking officials.

The psychologist assuming these responsibilities is expected to be a content expert in PTSD and behavioral health who is visible at facility, VISN, and national levels. As such, he serves on committees and develops educational work products that guide practice patterns at all three levels of influence. He represents the facility as a spokesman concerning the status of care of veterans with PTSD through frequent communications with the media, political figures, and prominent officials within the facility, VISN, State of XXXX, and VACO. This psychologist is a resource for leadership at the facility and Network and consults on issues pertinent to PTSD, program development, and behavioral health.

Director, PTSD Patient Care Line. The PTSD Care Line consists of a 12-bed XXXX PTSD Unit (discharging 250 patients annually) and two outpatient PTSD Clinical Teams (seeing 4,330 unique patients for 36,569 visits in FY05). (See attached organizational diagram for Mental Health Service.) Each of the two PTSD Clinical Teams is equipped with a specialized women's trauma treatment subprogram. Additionally, the PTSD Care Line details psychologists and psychiatrists to the primary care-based Deployment Health Clinic at both divisions, and these resources are managed and coordinated by the Director, PTSD Patient Care Line. The programs of the PTSD Patient Care Line have an annual operating budget of XXXX million and are staffed by 36 FTEE, representing a full range of mental health professionals. The clinical programs comprising the PTSD Patient Care Line, in aggregate, see more unique veterans with PTSD than any other facility within VHA, which speaks to the scope and complexity of its operation.

As the PTSD Patient Care Line Director, this Senior Psychologist Program Manager has administrative and broad management responsibilities for the clinical programs and research activities of the PTSD Patient Care Line across the XXXX. He/she provides leadership in the design, development, implementation, and oversight of clinical and research programs within the PTSD Patient Care Line, while four Team Leaders who are supervised by the PTSD Patient Care Line Director manage most day-to-day operations of the clinical programs. In addition to oversight of these programs, the PTSD Patient Care Line Director is primarily responsible for liaison and coordination of program operations and personnel with affiliated programs also serving PTSD patients. These affiliated programs include the VAPSHCS Addictions Treatment Center, primary care-based Deployment Health Clinics at the XXXX and YYY divisions of ZZZ, the Poly-trauma Center, local Vet Centers, and PTSD providers of the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

Director, Psychology Service. As Director, Psychology Service, this Senior Supervisory Psychologist is administratively responsible for the professional practice of psychology at the XXXX and YYY divisions of ZZZ. (A Deputy Director for Psychology Service assists in carrying out Psychology Service functions at the YYY division of ZZZ.) These responsibilities include ensuring that all psychologists at the facility meet requirements detailed in the Psychology Qualification Standards and that they provide evidence-based psychological services of the highest quality. The Director, Psychology Service oversees professional practice functions for a service consisting of 39 staff psychologists, 10 psychology interns, and 3-4 postdoctoral fellows (2-3 MIRECC, 1 clinical fellow). These psychologists (and trainees) are dispersed across multidisciplinary teams within the Mental Health Service, General Internal Medicine Clinic, Rehabilitation Medicine Service, Spinal Cord Injury program, Bone Marrow Transplant Unit, and Chronic Pain Clinic.

Director, Advanced Psychology Postdoctoral Fellowship Program. This psychologist functions as Director, XXXX Advanced Psychology Postdoctoral Fellowship Program. The 2-3 postdoctoral fellows enrolled in this program spend 75% of their time in research and 25% in direct patient care. As Director of the fellowship program, the psychologist obtains funding that supports the fellowship program (grant preparation) and leads the selection, supervision, mentorship, and evaluation of fellows. He also attends national [XXX] fellowship annual meetings and regular conference calls for fellowship directors. Finally, he supervises training of an additional clinical postdoctoral fellow assigned to the PTSD Patient Care Line.

Professor, University of [XXX], School of Medicine. The psychologist in this position is also responsible for fulfilling obligations associated with the rank of Professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, University of [XXX], School of Medicine (regular academic faculty). These obligations include attainment of competitive research funding, publication of research findings, supervision of junior faculty members and fellows as the senior research psychologist in Psychology Service, regular teaching, and membership on committees at the University of [XXX], School of Medicine.

Knowledge, skills, and abilities required. Duties performed by this psychologist require skill in directing and effectively managing the work of large, complex organizational units. The psychologist must balance responsibilities in a complex environment and use a high level of autonomy to organize work, set priorities and program goals, delegate tasks, meet multiple deadlines, and meet facility performance objectives. Skills are required in analyzing—and finding solutions to—organizational and systems problems across different program components of the PTSD Patient Care Line spread across two divisions of the medical center. These skills include assessing the need for services across multiple patient care programs and coordinating these services with other medical and mental health systems within the facility and the community. The ability to adapt to a changing work environment with fluid program demands, staffing patterns, and patient characteristics is required. The psychologist must be highly proficient in relating to superiors, peers, and subordinates in order to and negotiate and implement program policies and find solutions to personnel and organizational challenges.

Managerial and Supervisory Responsibilities: (50% time)
